Required Communications

Generally accepted auditing standards (AU-C 260, The Auditor's Communication with Those Charged with Governance) require the auditor to promote effective two-way communication between the auditor and those charged with governance. Consistent with this requirement, the following summarizes our responsibilities regarding the financial statement audit as well as observations arising from our audit that are significant and relevant to your responsibility to oversee the financial reporting process.

Area	Comments
Our Responsibilities with Regard to the Financial Statement Audit	Our responsibilities under auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States and the Kansas Municipal Audit and Accounting Guide have been described to you in our arrangement letter dated January 20, 2014.
Overview of the Planned Scope and Timing of the Financial Statement Audit	We have issued a separate communication regarding the planned scope and timing of our audit and have discussed with you our identification of and planned audit response to significant risks of material misstatement.
Accounting Policies and Practices	Preferability of Accounting Policies and Practices Under generally accepted principles, in certain circumstances, management may select among alternative accounting practices. We did not discuss with management any alternative treatments within generally accepted accounting principles for accounting policies and practices related to material items during the current audit period. Adoption of, or Change in, Accounting Policies Management has the ultimate responsibility for the appropriateness of the accounting policies used by the Library. Following is a description of significant accounting policies or their application that were either initially selected or changed during the year: GASB Statement No. 65, Items Previously Reported as Assets and Liabilities, was issued in March 2012. This Statement establishes accounting and financial reporting standards that reclassify, as deferred outflow of resources or deferred inflows of resources, certain items that were previously reported as assets and liabilities

	and recognizes, as outflows of resources or inflows of resources, certain items that were previously reported as assets and liabilities. This Statement also provides other financial reporting guidance related to the impact of the financial statement elements deferred outflows of resources and deferred inflows of resources, such as changes in the determination of the major fund calculations and limiting the use of the term deferred in financial statement presentations. In addition, debt issuance costs, except any portion related to prepaid insurance costs, should be recognized as an expense in the period incurred. Significant or Unusual Transactions We did not identify any significant or unusual transactions or significant accounting policies in controversial or emerging areas for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. Management's Judgments and Accounting Estimates Accounting estimates are an integral part of the preparation of financial statements and are based upon management's current judgment. The process used by management encompasses their knowledge and experience about past and current events and certain assumptions about future events. You may wish to monitor throughout the year the process used to determine and record these accounting estimates. Summary information about the process used by management in formulating particularly sensitive accounting estimates and about our conclusions regarding the reasonableness of those estimates is in the attached "Summary of Accounting Estimates."
Audit Adjustments	Audit adjustments proposed by us and recorded by the Library are summarized in the attached representation letter.
Uncorrected Misstatements	During the course of our audit, we accumulated uncorrected misstatements that were determined by management to be immaterial, both individually and in the aggregate, to the statements of financial position and results of

Summary of Significant Accounting Estimates

Year Ended December 31, 2013

The following describes the significant accounting estimates reflected in the Library's December 31, 2013, financial statements:

Estimate	Accounting Policy	Management's Estimation Process	Basis for Our Conclusions on Reasonableness of Estimate
Capital Assets	Record the value of books and collections as determined by the Library's Technical Services department.	An analysis of current quantities of books and collections, along with other factors, is used to determine the value of books and collections.	Review of management's analysis resulted in our conclusion that the estimate appears reasonable.
Net OPEB Obligation	Net OPEB obligation is computed by an independent actuarial firm. The disclosure is based upon numerous assumptions and estimates, including the expected rate of investment return, the interest rate used to determine present value and medical care cost trend rates.	The rate of return is based on historical and general market data.	Review of actuarial valuation and related assumptions resulted in our conclusion that the estimate appears reasonable.
